

Q: What was the top throughput of LocalTalk?

A: 230.4 Kbps

Q: On Macs that began shipping in June of 2013, Apple Hardware Test has a new name. What is that name?

A: Apple Diagnostics

Q: The four ink colors used to print full-color images are often abbreviated as CMYK. In order, what does each letter — C-M-Y-K — stand for?

A: Cyan, Magenta, Yellow, Black (or "key" instead of black)

Q: On the Macintosh, what keyboard shortcut do you type to get an ellipsis ...?

A: Option-Semicolon

Q: The Xserve was released in 2002. In what year was it discontinued?

A: 2011, specifically in January.

Q: What was the name of the primary development environment for the Mac immediately before Xcode?

A: Metrowerks CodeWarrior

Q: What protocol for obtaining an IP address from a configuration server was superseded by DHCP?

A: BootP

Q: What is the oldest version of Mac OS X in which you can run Apple's App Store application?

A: 10.6.6 Snow Leopard in January of 2011

Q: Name the three predecessors to iCloud:

A: iTools (2000-2002), .Mac (2002-2008), MobileMe (2008-2011)

Q: Apple's AirPlay technology is based on an older Apple feature. What is the name of that older feature?

A: AirTunes

Q: What are the two main file formats of ebooks available in Apple's iBooks Store?

A: Multi-Touch and EPUB